ACADEMY ^{OF THE} HOLY NAMES

ROME, N. Y.

LOCATION

THE Academy is pleasantly and healthfully situated near the banks of the historical Mohawk. It has always been singularly attractive to young ladies, who find in this delightful spot the comforts of an ideal home.

The grounds are spacious and laid out in terraces and courts for outdoor exercise. On the premises is a spring, highly prized for its valuable properties, as revealed by a careful analysis of its crystal water.

OBJECT

The object of this Academy is to educate young girls thoroughly and practically. Every student is prepared for the station in life to which she may aspire, or may be called. She is taught to cultivate the Christian virtues and to acquire the womanly accomplishments indispensable to the true mistress of the home.

SYSTEM OF EDUCATION

To Christian doctrine is given the prominence due to it as the foundation soil of those virtuous habits which give fragrance to life and title to heavenly happiness.

The system of education is so arranged as best to reach and cultivate the heart, develop the mind, train the hand, mould and refine the character.

Great stress is laid upon the observance of the laws of courteous behavior, which, in reality, obtain their sanction and force from the self-governing influence of religion. Lessons in deportment are given weekly, and any violation of its rules promptly corrected. Precept and practice thus combine to engraft upon the youthful student habits of refinement helpful to success in life.

COURSES OF STUDY

The Academy is accredited to the University of the State of New York. The curriculum of study therefore includes a pre-academic course of four years or more, conducted along such lines as will secure admission to college, normal or training schools. For information address SISTER SUPERIOR.
